

IEEE MMTC Member Service

Membership

Through IEEE MMTC membership, you can stay current in multimedia communications technology profession, keep in touch with your peers, and invest in your career advancement. The detail information on joining MMTC please visit:
<http://committees.comsoc.org/mmc/membership.asp>

Benefits of the Membership

IEEE MMTC access to the industry and academic most essential technical information, networking opportunities, career development tools, and many other exclusive benefits to its members. In particular, all the members have a common platform (<http://community.comsoc.org/>) for message release and exchange. There are only three steps:

1. Go to <http://community.comsoc.org/>, and create your account by your email address;
2. log in and choose IEEE MMTC as "My Groups";
3. Subscribe the information update is an option.

“ Our task is to develop a platform serving all the researchers on multimedia ”

Dr. Haohong Wang
(Chair of IEEE MMTC)

Member Resources

IEEE MMTC provides various resources to its members through member-oriented services and networks.

1. Announcement. Each member can make an announcement for other members via this platform.
2. Events. Up to date Call for Papers of journals and conferences on Multimedia Communications are released here.
3. Files. Some famous experts on multimedia communications are invited to present technical reports.
4. Discussion. Each member can discuss her/his interested topics with other members conveniently.
5. Publications. E-letter is published every two months, and this is free for the members.
6. Update notice. Each member will receive the update notice of platform every month to keep track of the committee.

Should have any questions on Member Service, please feel free to contact:

Dr. Bin Wei (bw@research.att.com)
Prof. Joel Rodrigues (joel@ieee.org)
Dr. Liang Zhou (liang.zhou@ieee.org)